

Online Patient and Public Involvement training for researchers

Building and maintaining a PPI group

Wednesday 17 June 2020 from 09.30 to 11.30 am

Further details and registration available at Eventbrite

This training is open to anyone working in healthcare research across the East of England.

It will particularly suit those who have already attended our Introduction to PPI Training and are now considering building a PPI group to support their research.

The training will cover:

bit.ly/PPIgroups

1 Identifying suitable group members, finding, recruiting and retaining them

2 Ways of working with your group and providing appropriate training

3 How to maintain involvement over the research cycle.

Training coming soon: PPI tool kit: ways to involve the public in research
